AGRICULTURAL PACKAGING PRODUCTS

NW Packaging supplies reusable packaging products for use from the field to the processor, to the retail shelf. We have containers for fruit and vegetable growers, food processors, meat processors, cut flower producers and potted plant growers.

We also manufacture the two most common sizes of agricultural bins for use in all aspects of harvesting, including transportation, storage and processing. Both can be stacked 8 to a standard 48 x 40 pallet, and can be used with the stock agricultural bulk bin. Both are wire reinforced for long lasting durability.

Recyclable, lightweight, cube efficient, and durable - reusable picking totes and shippers pay for themselves well before their useful life is up. Corrugated plastic packaging provides solutions for the environmental concerns of our agricultural economy.
